Michael's Success Story

Michael cooking dinner in his new apartment in Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Prior to Michael receiving Employment and Community First (ECF) services from Emory Valley Center, he was homeless in Knoxville, stealing food just to survive and was being exploited by people who claimed to care about him. All he had in his possession was a non-working cell phone and a bag of shoes.

Since receiving services from Emory Valley Center, Michael:

- Has a job
- Can purchase food, clothing and other items
- Has an apartment and a roommate
- Has made many friends
- Is more independent
- Feels part of a community who cares about him

Michael is a wonderful person and Emory Valley Center is happy to provide services to help him achieve his dreams and goals.
